

National Assembly of Women

Weekend seminar for women: The changing world of work for women***

1pm Saturday 16 to 1pm Sunday 17 October 2021 NASUWT Centre, Birmingham

Saturday

The essential role women in public services have played during the pandemic across all sectors; occupational segregation; low pay; the national economic reality

- Sian Elliott senior policy officer at the TUC
- Fran Heathcote president PCS
- Followed by group discussion

Sunday

The longer term impact on women; retraining; disappearing jobs; the technological disadvantages faced by many women; the gig economy

- Sarah Woolley general secretary of the Bakers Food & Allied Workers Union; followed by group discussion
- Leave with a spring in your step and a determination to act – closing speaker: Claudia Webbe MP

The all-in cost for the weekend (includes en suite rooms, meals etc) is £60.

Non-residential attendees is £15 Saturday (includes lunch), £8 Sunday

The NAW is subsidising this event from the Val Duncan Memorial Fund

Places are limited and will be confirmed on receipt of payment.

Email megan@gn.apc.org and an invoice will be sent.

* An essential worker is for life, not just for the pandemic...