

National Assembly of Women

Weekend seminar for women: combatting the stereotype

1pm Saturday 27 to 1pm Sunday 28 January 2024
NASUWT Centre, Birmingham

Saturday

What have women gained through industrial action? The experiences of striking women and some of the “unexpected consequences”... Speakers include:

- Gail Cartmail until recently the Executive Head of Operations at Unite
- Joanne Moorcroft Unison’s North West Regional Convenor
- Amanda Gearing & Rachel Fagan GMB Organisers
- Rosie MacGregor President of the National Pensioners Convention
- Saturday’s after dinner speaker is Lynn Collins, Director at the Royal College of Midwives

Sunday

Have women strikers and strike leaders been listened to? The role of the Charter for Women. Speakers include:

- Jane McGuire bus driver and Shop Steward at Abellio London
- Hannah David PCS and Chair of the South West Region TUC
- Cecile Wright elected member of the TUC Joint Consultative Committee
- Alison Spencer-Scragg Unite National Officer for Equalities
- Annette Mansell-Green Director of Trade Union and Public Affairs for the British Dietetic Association

The much-subsidised all-in cost for the weekend (en suite rooms, meals etc) is £60.

Non-residential attendees is £15 Saturday (includes lunch but not dinner), and £8 Sunday

The NAW is subsidising this event from the Val Duncan Memorial Fund

Places will be confirmed on receipt of payment. Cheques to NAW, 13 Wren Gardens, Hornchurch RM12 4DT. Or via bank transfer to NAW, 60 83 01 20364894. If you transfer your payment please email megan@gn.apc.org to let us know. If you need an invoice just ask at the same address. Website is www.sisters.org.uk